

NOTICE TO INCREASE FEES

The mandate of the Private Security Regulatory Authority (PSiRA) is to regulate the private security industry and to exercise effective control over the practice of the occupation of security service providers in the public interest, national interest and the interest of the private security industry itself.

Pursuant to the objectives of section 4(w) of the Private Security Industry Act, 2001 (Act 56 of 2001), the Authority hereby issues a notice to increase fees as contained in the Schedule. The implementation of the annual fees increase will take effect from 24 March 2014.

According to Section 4(w) of the Private Security Industry Act, 2001 (Act 56 of 2001), the Authority must take steps to achieve its objects with the means at its disposal and may, subject to this Act and any other law, for the purpose of achieving its objects, determine, charge and collect fees as provided for in this Act or in respect of any service rendered by the Authority or any object made available by the Authority.

The current private security industry growth has placed enormous pressure on the Authority to ensure that its services are accessible to all, and to further ensure effective and efficient regulation of the sector. The Authority initially effected inflation-linked increases to its fees for the first time in 9 years on 1 February 2011. Since then, no fees increase has been brought about by the Authority. The growing cost of living and most importantly, high demand for more service delivery from stakeholders across the board has made it eminent for the Authority to review the administration fees and increase them accordingly.

The new service fees are hereby adjusted as follows:
