

The Private Security Industry Regulatory Authority (PSiRA) with its head office in Pretoria, Centurion is a statutory body established in terms of the Private Security Industry Regulation Act, 2001 (Act No.56 of 2001) to regulate the private security industry in South Africa.

PSiRA is looking for dynamic, experienced, and suitably qualified professionals to serve on its Stakeholder and Core Business Committee, which is a sub-committee of the PSiRA Council.

INVITATION TO SERVE ON PSiRA'S STAKEHOLDER AND CORE BUSINESS COMMITTEE

The Authority invites experienced and suitably qualified persons to serve on its Stakeholder and Core Business Committee. Applicants must be South African citizens who should ideally be qualified and competent in any of the following areas, with at least 10 years working experience:

- Regulatory compliance and governance;
- Law enforcement;
- Safety and security;
- Industry/Sector training;
- Stakeholder Management;
- Research and development studies;
- Industry/Sector standards development.

Knowledge and experience of the following are essential, but not limited to the list:

- Strategy development and implementation in the public sector;
- Working in a regulatory environment;
- Liaison with stakeholders
- Auditing legal frameworks, systems, and processes;
- Risk management, governance and compliance systems and processes;
- Corporate governance and compliance in the public sector;
- Organisational Performance Management as it relates to public entities;
- Organisational Ethics and Values.

The Stakeholder and Core Business Committee is a committee of Council and fulfills its roles in terms of Council Approved Terms of Reference (Charter). Qualification in safety and security, law enforcement, research or education and training and registration with relevant professional bodies would be an added advantage. Applicants must take note of the disqualifications for appointment as councillors as prescribed under section 7 of the Private Security Industry Regulation Act, 2001 (Act No.56 of 2001) (copy available on our website: www.psiira.co.za).
